Baby Boomer board elected

County opts for youth

BY RICHARD MEEK

Hancock County voters continued a trend of change begun in August. Voters ousted District 3 Supervisor Howard Lizana in the general election on Tuesday, ensuring that an entire new board will take office Jan. 1.

Additionally, in a stunning upset, state Senator Bill Johnson was rejected in favor of newcomer Scottie Cuevas. Also, 23-year-old Dirk Dedeaux will become the youngest person to serve in the legislature next January when he takes his seat in the House, representing the Coast's newest District 93.

Tim Kellar won the Chancery Clerk seat, and Sheriff Ronnie Peterson and Circuit Clerk Pam Metzler, as expected, easily defeated their challengers.

Tuesday's election reflected a flexing of political muscle by the Baby Boomer generation. The average age of the incoming Board of Supervisors is 40 years old.

District 4 Supervisor-elect Steve Seymour is the youngest at 32. District 1 Supervisor-elect Jeep Ladner the oldest at 54. Even Kellar, 38, is part of the youth movement.

The new breed

Hancock County will have an entire new Board of Supervisors in January. Sharing in their victories Tuesday night, and taking a look at the room where they will soon be meeting, were (L-R): District 1-elect Lyonie "Jeep" Ladner, District 4-elect Steve

"We have a good group of enthusiastic, young businessmen who are ready to roll up their sleeves and get to work," said District 5 Supervisor-elect

Philip Moran, 34, who narrowly defeated David Depreo, 1,282-1,118.

Moran had stunned Board President Mike Ladner and most political observers in the primary when he captured over 50 percent of the vote and gained a spot in the general election without a runoff.

Lisa Cowand won a second opportunity to serve on the board by outpolling Lizana.

Board reaffirms library contract

BY ED LEPOMA

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors heard arguments from a disgruntled local bidder Monday, but reaffirmed its decision to let a $32,000 contract for the county library computer linkup system to an out-of-town firm.

Supervisors allowed almost an hour of testimony, mainly from Bay St. Louis businessman, T.R. Alfonso III, who had asked them to throw out all bids and readvertise the contract to install a CD-ROM tower and the associated network and computer software for four work stations that will link all county libraries.

Alfonso had sent a letter to supervisors challenging recommendations to award the contract to the second low bidder.

At the Oct. 2 supervisor's meeting, County Library Director Prima Plauché said the bid submitted by Alfonso was incomplete and did not conform with bid requirements.

Exact Solutions Inc., describing itself as a minority-owned firm headed by Alfonso, submitted the low bid of $24,037.50. Next low bidder was Education Solutions, a Rockford, Ill., based firm at $32,161, and Ameridata Inc. of Jackson at $48,908.

Supervisors told Plauché they would accept her recommendations to award the contract to Education Solutions, providing she supply her reasons in writing to the board.

Alfonso admitted in opening statements, "We did make mistakes in submitting our bids. We did not submit the bid in duplicate, and we did not return the required work sheets."

But, he argued, "there seems to be some mindset in Hancock County that a local firm can't handle complicated projects."

Alfonso complained that he and his firm were "subjected to an investigation that was tantamount to a witch hunt" by the Library Board after he announced he would challenge the awarding of the contract.

After the Oct. 2 meeting, Plauché submitted the three bids to Alan Withoff, a consultant employed by the Mississippi Library Commission, who inspected and reviewed all the bid documents.

Withoff concluded while Exact Solutions submitted the lowest bid, "their response was incomplete, and it was impossible for me to ascertain exactly what they would be providing your library system."

The Library's Board of Trustees met to review the bids and the letter from Withoff, and on Oct. 20 sent a letter to Gerald Gex, attorney for the Board of Supervisors. Trustees recommended awarding the contract to Education Solutions.

At one point, supervisors wanted to know if there was still time to reject bids, and readvertise.

Plauché said the library will be using state bond funds to entirely finance the computer linkup, and if the funds were not used before Dec. 31, 1995, they would have to be returned to the state.

Supervisors were also concerned that Alfonso might sue, thus holding up any work on the project until a court decides.

Alfonso promised he would not sue, but contended, "the entire situation was not fair."

Michael Haas Sr., the attorney representing the Library Board, urged supervisors to award the contract.

"It's quite simple. Mr. Alfonso failed to comply with specifications in the bid. He is disqualified. He admitted his mistakes. He learned on this one. He can get it right the next time he bids. We need to get this contract underway."

Supervisors voted 5-0 to award the contract to Education Solutions, and Plauché thanked them for their actions.

"This is a very important project for the citizens of Hancock County. You'll be very proud of the system we're getting," Plauché told supervisors.

County Tax Assessor Eddie Murtagh came before supervisors, and presented them with two surety bonds which the Jubilee Casino was required to post before leaving its berth at Bayou Caddy in search of more profitable waters in Greenville, Miss.

Rail service in Bay

BY RICHARD MEEK

By next summer, a daily rail service connecting Mobile to New Orleans, with a stop in Bay St. Louis, should be operational.

Kay Johnson, Bay St. Louis Municipal Clerk and the chairman of the Southern Rapid Rail Transportation Commission, said the planned rail service is a cooperative effort between Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. Mississippi and Louisiana have put up $185,000 each.

RAIL-PAGE 6A

Depot to undergo facelift

The Bay St. Louis railroad depot is undergoing major renovation. Its opening should coincide with the beginning of a daily rail service between Bay St. Louis and New Orleans next summer. City officials are hoping the depot will become a major intermodal transportation center. (Echo staff photo by Richard Meek)

Restoration to begin at depot

BY MARY G. SEILEY

The long-awaited depot restoration project is about to go into the construction phase, Bay St. Louis officials learned recently.

But on the eve of actual restoration, officials connected with the project urged City Council members to give serious consideration to additional security at the facility.

"We have some real grave concerns" about security, said Mike Cuevas, the head consultant on the project. She and architect Kevin Fitzpatrick said the depot on Railroad Avenue will need anti-vandalism protection.

Card of Thanks

With the devastation that Hurricane Opal has caused throughout our three-state region, I would like to thank those who have helped The Salvation Army respond to the victims of this disaster. Your contributions, volunteer hours and simple words of prayer have enabled The Salvation Army to be there with helping hands at times like these.

The Salvation Army has been continuously on the scene providing victims with hot meals, shelter, and comfort. This could not have been made possible without the cooperation of the state and local government, media and friends of The Army.

Your continued support is greatly appreciated by The Salvation Army and those touched by your generosity. Monetary donations can be sent to The Salvation Army, P.O. Box 1346, Dothan, AL 36802.

Once again, thank you for the great support you have shown The Salvation Army during this disaster. May God bless you.

Fowl dominate Waveland workshop

BY RICHARD MEEK

So why did the chicken cross the road?

If the chicken lived in Waveland, probably because it could. And it's a privilege some city residents are trying to preserve for their feathered friends.

The issue of the fowls' freedom came before the Waveland Board of Aldermen during a workshop Monday night. It seems several chickens and roosters are roaming the neighborhood near Terrace Lane, not far from Beach Boulevard. The fowl apparently belong to no one, and at least one resident is claiming the animals are using his yard as their coop.

David Skermetta, a nearby resident, and several of his neighbors claim the poultry are part of the "natural beauty" of Waveland. He presented a proposed resolution to the board Monday that would prohibit "the harassment of our natural resource (the fowl)."

Skermetta, who presented a petition with 50 signatures, is hoping the alderman will pass a law that would allow the orphaned fowl free run of the neighborhood. Additionally, the proposed resolution would guarantee protection for the chickens and roosters, and make it a violation to harm the animals.

Aldermen Louis Smolensky was quick to point out that several of the signatures on the petition were from citizens living away from the area, a fact Skermetta later admitted.

Crying "foul" to Skermetta's petition was Ed O'Halloran, a part-time resident of Waveland who lives on Terrace Lane. O'Halloran said the animals "seemed to have taken up residence on my property."

He said the roosters crow continuously from approximately 4:30-8 a.m. He said the fowl have also dug up his yard, left droppings on his patio, and have created an "unsanitary condition" underneath his house.

"These animals have never been considered part of the natural environment," he said. "I don't want to harm animals that are part of the natural environment."

"(The chickens and roosters) are farm animals. I am being harassed by my neighbors and it has made my stay here very unpleasant."

City officials pointed to a city ordinance that prohibits citizens from keeping fowl if neighbors complain. Additionally, if the fowl are not owned by anyone, it is within the city's rights to have an animal control officer pick up the offending poultry.

"We are bound by law," Mayor John Mason told Skermetta.

Ward 2 Alderman Jay Fleuret, whose lives on Terrace

Lane, agreed with Mason.

"The solution is what the law is," he said. "Nobody owns the chickens."

However, Skermetta posed a veil threat to the aldermen, saying the full-time residents are "the ones who voted you (the aldermen and mayor) in office. I will be talking to these people in the next few days. I will tell them they are being waived over for one person (O'Halloran)."

"People will be upset if the city is spending money to clean this up for one person," he added. "We don't want to see the animals destroyed."

He added the residents will take the matter to court if not resolved in their favor.

Aldermen Al Kingston proposed the chickens be gathered up and moved to a remote area of his ward, which is Ward 4. Portions of Kingston's ward are undeveloped, and he said the fowl "would serve more of a purpose" in that area.

In less fowl matters:

The board agreed to have an asbestos survey conducted at the Waveland Civic Association. The idle building will be the focus of a public hearing on Thursday. The future of the building has come under much debate recently, and a committee has been working for several months to come up with ideas for its use.

However, before anything can be done, Deputy City Clerk Lisa Blanchard pointed out that it must be determined if any asbestos is in the building. If asbestos is found, she said an abatement procedure must be designed and followed.

The aldermen discussed increasing criminal fees to account for the $10 a day charge that the city is charged back for criminals in jail. Police chief Jimmy Varnell pointed out that even if a criminal posts bond immediately, the city is still charged $10.

"We should be able to get that back," Varnell said. "We should make the criminal pay for that."

Veterans Day parade Friday

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

U. S. Congressman Gene Taylor and Col. Robert C. Schmel, U.S.M.C. Headquarters Command in New Orleans will be the guest speakers for Friday following the annual Veterans Day parade.

The annual Hancock County Veterans Day parade will be held in Bay St. Louis on Friday, at 10 a.m.

Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139 will host the parade this year, said Gene Schloegel, spokesman. The Bourgeois-Stieffel-Ray American Legion Post No. 77 of Waveland alternates hosting the Veterans Day parade.

The parade will form on the service road, 200 block of Highway 90, Bay St. Louis beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The route of the parade will be the west lane of Highway 90 to Blue Meadow Road. It will disband at American Legion Post No. 139, Green Meadow Road.

All Veterans Organizations will be in the parade. Bands from Bay High, Hancock High, St. Stanislaus and Pearl River

Junior College along with the Keesler Air Force 100 flag unit are scheduled for the parade, Schloegel said.

The Bay High Junior ROTC cadet unit, both Miss Poppies from American Legion Auxiliaries Units 77 and 139 in addition to other clubs and auxiliaries are scheduled to participate in the parade.

Following a brief ceremony, refreshments will be served by Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 at the post home.

The parade committee consists of members from Post No. 139 and No. 77 with Richard Brehm as parade chairman.

Schloegel said, "All veterans and fraternal organizations are encouraged and invited to participate in the parade and ceremonies."

For further information contact, Commander Clayton Thompson, 467-7100.

A special "To the Colors" flag ceremony will be held on Veterans Day, Sat., Nov. 11, 8 a.m. at the Bay Flag Memorial at the Hancock County Walking Track in front of Hancock Medical Center.

The ceremony will honor Veterans and POW/MIA's. The large American flag will be displayed during the ceremony.

The military flags are being displayed throughout the month of November.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Congratulations and best wishes are in order for Head Coach Rocky Gaudin and his Hancock High Hawks as they play in the Georgia-Pacific Bowl Saturday afternoon.

The high school football game is to be held in Monticello, Miss., and kickoff is set for 2:30 p.m.

I am hoping there will be a large number of Hawk fans in the stadium cheering Hancock onto victory. Collins High is the Hawks' opponent in the bowl game.

As the "crow flies" Monticello appears to be four counties away, but as the highways go, it appears to be a sizeable distance.

Monticello is some 19 miles east of Brookhaven, and the game is set for the Lawrence County stadium. Once again, best of luck to the Hancock High Hawks.

Do not forget the annual Veterans Day parade set for tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Bay St. Louis.

The parade is held in Bay St. Louis and Waveland on a rotating basis and is sponsored by the Bay St. Louis and Waveland American Legions and Auxiliaries.

The parade will form on the service road, 200 block of Highway 90, Bay St. Louis, beginning at 9:30 a.m. The route will be the west lane of Highway 90 to Blue Meadow Road. The parade will disband at American Legion Post No. 139, Green Meadow Road.

U. S. Congressman Gene Taylor and Col. Robert C. Schimel, U.S.M.C. Headquarters Command, New Orleans, will be the guest speakers following the annual parade.

The Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139 will host the parade this year.

Bands and marching groups will join veterans in the parade.

Following a brief ceremony, refreshments will be served by Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 at the post home.

A special "To the Colors" flag ceremony will be held on Veterans Day, Sat., Nov. 11, 8 a.m. at the Bay Flag Memorial at the Hancock County Walking Track in front of Hancock Medical Center.

FROM THE STATE AUDITOR

GENERAL

Q. Was legislation passed during the 1995 session to clarify the authority of counties and cities to borrow money under the Local Government Capital Improvement Revolving Loan Program?

A. Yes, this legislation appears in Section 57-1-303.

Q. What is the current maximum daily rate allowed for meal reimbursement of state and local government employees while on official in-state travel?

A. $20 for in-state generally. $23 for in-state high cost areas which have experienced significant impact from the gaming and tourist industry. (Memorandum from State Department of Finance and Administration dated July 7, 1995)

Q. Does the State Department of Finance and Administration require paid receipts to support reimbursements for meals paid by local governments?

A. No. Governing authorities may have this requirement but the state does not require receipts for meals. (Memorandum from State Department of Finance and Administration dated July 7, 1995)

Q. May a governing authority specify a particular software package when advertising its intentions to purchase software?

A. Yes. Section 31-7-13 prohibits restrictive specifications only for equipment purchases. Computer software is not considered equipment as defined by Section 31-7-1.

Seymour celebrates

A packed Hancock County Courthouse watched as District Supervisor 3-elect Steve Seymour celebrated his victory Tuesday night. Seymour needed four elections to finally win the seat currently occupied by his father, Wilmer. The courthouse was filled, and hundreds more gathered outside along Main Street to listen to the results from the 28 precincts. (Echo staff photo by Richard Meek)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Waveland resident questions cancellation

To the Editor:

In a response to the decision to cancel the St. Stanislaus-Bay High football game on Friday, Nov. 3, several questions, I feel, need to be answered.

1. Would Stanislaus have played the game if it was scheduled on their home field?

A tremendous amount of preparation and time had gone into staging the contest. Practice by band members, players and cheerleaders, preparation of the field, ordering of concessions, printing of senior night programs, etc.

2. If a playoff berth for Stanislaus would have been at stake, would a forfeit have occurred?

3. Should all future contest between the two schools be cancelled because of the antics by a few individuals?

Most of the people involved were not even associated with the two football teams.

I believe that the players from both teams have handled themselves with class on the football field and would have done so on Friday night.

Simply stated, cancelling of the game was not in the best interest of anybody.

I know that some people will say that it was only a game, and not too much should be said about it, but they need to realize that these players, especially the seniors, were denied the opportunity to compete against their rivals. Most of the kids from these two schools are friends and are simply good competitors.

Perhaps we may have denied these seniors an opportunity to be seen one last time by college scouts.

In the future, I think before a decision like this is made, more thought should go into the decision making and the consequences weighed.

Resident complains about speeders, police and deputies

Dear Editor:

For the past five years that I've lived here, cars, pickups, and sometimes buses, have used S. Beach Boulevard as a "fly way." It is as if streets that are only T-intersections do not matter: Citizen, St. Charles, Ramonada, Bay Oaks, Nicholson, Mollere and others. The cities and county ignored my argument that we need other means than random radar ticketing and low speed limit signs to discourage speeding (speeding police?).

No passing, dual centerlines with 50+ yards of all street intersections, and in front of churches and schools would bring our small towns into the "20th" century.

This would help to add to the psychological pressure to keep reckless passing (that is "speeding") reduced.

Presently anyone doing exactly the speed limit (25mph) is passed, cursed and stared at, as if fools. No-passing-at-cross-streets is normal, most places and should be throughout Bay St. Louis (and Mississippi).

I started calling either the Bay or Waveland police two years ago (depending on the direction speeding cars were going), moments after they passed on S. Beach Blvd. There seemed to be no effect over months. Occasional radar traps didn't work.

Over a year ago, especially when vandalism in the county cemeteries took place, it became apparent that the trouble is not "casino traffic" as much as police cars of all types.

How many times I've spotted them in the past year? I lost count at weekly. Anytime it's reckless and irresponsible. The same for the town police who "look the other way."

On Oct. 6, after taking my child home from school at 3:15-3:30, two of the sheriff's cars on Main Street headed toward Hwy. 90, slowed to about 20 mph at Necaise, and boldly ran the stop sign. And at St. Francis and Main Street they did the same thing. Right when the schools let out. What an example they set, and danger!

Radar traps get too many of the wrong people, like the few busy locals familiar with the road, habitually doing 30 mph. It's those passing who are radically exceeding 50 mph, and the sheriff's cars, that are neither in hot pursuit nor within their jurisdiction, who need to be hauled into court.

Too many times I've seen county cars running stop signs without having their sirens or lights flashing, possibly heading for a "shift change" up in the county or out Blue Meadow Road.

Ticketing locals further pushes them for 3-5 years to the out-of-state high-risk insurance, causing many thousands of dollars to be drained from our area economy, straining families to make some moot point, while police make like "Smokey And The Bandit."

If we doubled ticket fines for serious moving violations, but stopped "reporting" violators to the national computer network, it would send a message to local speeders and keep hundreds of thousands of dollars in healthy circulation in South Mississippi businesses.

With many people involved in this, who read or hear of my complaint and suggestions, I hope we don't have more answers like I've been told by councilmen, supervisors, police dispatchers, clerks and judges: "It's not our responsibility."

Will elections change things? Or will the tiger change its stripes for spots? Witnesses to these things, who have seen speeding police cars, perhaps an accident, or witnessed the sheriff's cars flying down S. Beach or Main Street, running stop signs, whatever, should speak out now.

There will be more people in wheelchairs for life, or dead, if we don't. In future the police need to set the best examples on our streets and keep their speed closer to the posted limits.

Honoring our commitment to veterans

In America's cities and towns this Veterans Day, parades will wind proudly down Main Streets, flags will be placed on graves in cemeteries, and real heroes will speak of bright victories and the sacrifice and valor of those who fought for their country.

Like most Americans, I have no illusions about what I can add now to the silent testimony of those who gave their lives willingly for their country. The sight before us is that of a strong and good nation that stands in silence and remembers those who were loved and who, in return, loved their countrymen enough to sacrifice for them.

If words cannot repay the debt we owe them, surely with our actions, we must strive to keep faith with them and with the vision that led them to battle.

Our first obligation to them and ourselves is plain enough: the United States and the freedom for which it stands must endure and prosper. Just as they, whom we honor, were willing to sacrifice, so, too, must we — in a less final, less heroic way — be willing to give of ourselves.

President Reagan said that a truly successful army is one that because of its strength and ability and dedication will not be called upon to fight, for no one will dare to provoke it.

He would recall that when he took office our armed forces were in a shocking state of neglect. If the sons and daughters of America can put their lives on the line to protect our way of life, he said, we can give them the weapons, the training, and the money they need to do the job right.

As we all know, President Reagan ultimately restored the strength of our national defense and retired from office, having put America back on her feet and standing tall.

The same challenge that he met now faces the Congress today. During the last 12 years, real cuts in our nation's defense have reversed his course and brought us uncomfortably close to those pre-Reagan days of lack of spare parts, grounded planes because there is no fuel, and soldiers who must go on food stamps to support their families.

The budget reconciliation bill now before the Congress halts the downward spiral in defense readiness and puts us back on a steady course. Spending for veterans' commitments will increase from $18.1 billion in 1996 to $23.7 billion in 2002. Spending actually will increase faster than inflation per veteran.

In addition, I am working with my friend, U.S. Representative, Sonny Montgomery, Mr. Veteran, to make certain that the Congress does not unfairly impact veterans in other areas as we work to achieve a balanced budget. We particularly want to ensure that the Montgomery G.I. Bill, one of the few successful federal programs which assists veterans in furthering their education, remains intact.

The world must know that when it comes to our national security and our national interest, the United States will do whatever it takes to protect the safety and freedom of the American people.

Americans and the Congress in turn will honor our commitments to the veterans who answered their nation's call to preserve that safety and freedom.

Senator Lott welcomes any questions and/or comments about this column. Please write to: Senator Trent Lott, 487 Russell Building, Washington, D.C. 20510 (Attention: Press Office).

Miss. water project approved by House of Representatives

From a flood prevention study along the coastal counties to a multi-million dollar dredging project at the Port of Pascagoula, South Mississippi is set to receive $9.2 million to improve the state's future prosperity.

This past summer I initiated a bill in the House to see that these important projects were funded in South Mississippi. On Oct. 31, the U.S. House of Representatives overwhelmingly approved the Fiscal Year 1996 Energy and Water Development Appropriations conference report (H.R. 1905).

This conference report was completed after the House and Senate conferees reached a compromise on differences in their versions of the Energy and Water Appropriations Bill.

The bill provides $9.2 million for projects up and down the Coast. A large percentage of the funds appropriated for the Coast will be directed toward port and harbor dredging projects.

I am extremely pleased the bill included the remaining funds for Phase I of the Port of Pascagoula's Channel and Harbor Deep Draft Navigation Project.

One of the largest needs we have along the Gulf Coast is getting Pascagoula's channel and harbor dredged. This project should greatly enhance the

YMCA announces conversion of Long Beach/Pass facility

The Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA officials unveiled plans Wednesday to convert the Long Beach/Pass Christian YMCA into a facility exclusively for the youth of Long Beach, Pass Christian and surrounding areas. This makes the Long Beach/Pass Christian Y one of only five YMCAs in the South to dedicate itself full-time to developing the minds and bodies of youth.

The YMCA is launching this venture as a result of the growing needs of children and families along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

"Our Children today are facing a growing number of negative factors," said YMCA Metropolitan Board Member Leon Long. "Although this community does a good job protecting its youth from unfavorable outside influences, such as drugs, gangs and crime, today's children have more unsupervised time on their hands, and even the best of children can make the wrong choices when it comes to how they spend their time. The choices these children and young adults make today will help to determine their future, and we at the YMCA want to make sure that future is bright," Long said.

After the announcement of the conversion of the Long Beach/Pass Christian Y, single parent Cindy Martin spoke about the importance of the programs the Y provides for her three children, Fred, 11; Sean, 9; and Gwyn, 13. Cindy said that in addition to providing her children with good role-models, fun activities and a safe place to go after school, the Y has also provided necessary support for her as she struggled to go to nursing school full-time, hold down a job and keep her family together. Cindy will graduate from nursing school in August of 1996, something she says she would not have been able to accomplish without the Y's assistance and support.

The conversion of the Long Beach/Pass Christian Y to a full-time youth center will start Dec. 1, when the Y will discontinue adult fitness programs and start the necessary renovations. The YMCA has made arrangements for the adults currently participating in fitness programs at the Y to continue their fitness programs at a nearby gym at a reduced rate. "The reality is that there are other adult fitness programs available in the area, but no full-time facility exclusively for youth," Long said.

Adult fitness programs will continue to be available at all other area YMCAs.

On Jan. 2, 1996, the new Long Beach/Pass Christian Y will open its doors exclusively to children and teens. Immediate plans include expanding current programs and developing a Youth Advisory Board made up of youth volunteers whose purpose will be to help to determine future programming based on the group's perceptions of their peers' needs and desires.

Current Y programs include the Little Critters Getaway Program, a full-day preschool program for children ages three to five; Prime Time, a before- and after-school program for children ages five to 12 years, offering them a safe place to play and do homework while their parents are at work; Summer Day Camp for children ages 5-13, a full summer of mind- and body-building activities; and Holiday Camp for children 5-13, designed to give children constructive activities to do while they are out of school for Spring Break, Easter and Christmas. Other available activities include karate, tennis, flag football, swimming lessons, lifeguard training, youth nights and all-night lock-ins.

Any parent wanting registration information for current and future programs at the Long Beach/Pass Christian Y may call 864-1223 for information.

Rail

Johnson said the daily train has been an idea the commission has been pushing since the 1984 World's Fair in New Orleans. During the fair, Johnson said, a daily train between Bay St. Louis and New Orleans was profitable.

"We have been working on this for years," Johnson said. "We want to get it running and get people to ride it." She said funding will allow the train to operate for three months. If profitable, she said the service will continue.

The commission and the state are paying for the service, but Amtrak will be operating the train with its equipment on CSX tracks. Currently, Amtrak's Sunset Limited is passing through this area three times a week.

Johnson said the commission will "take charge of the marketing." She noted her concern was that since the rail service is committed for three months, "people may not be aware of it." "We want to make this run successful, and hopefully, have it put on Amtrak's national line," she said. "If we don't market it, we don't have a chance."

She said marketing efforts will be heavily focused in Mobile and New Orleans. Plans are to put together packages with travel agents in those areas so people will be able to spend the night in the Bay-Waveland area. Additionally, Johnson said entertainment will be provided on the train.

Since CSX owns the rights to the tracks, the train's schedule is uncertain. Initially, she said the train will not be feasible for commuters, though she hopes at one point, that will become a reality.

The train will originate daily in Mobile and make scheduled stops in Pascagoula, Biloxi, Gulfport and Bay St. Louis.

The fare has yet to be determined.

Political newcomer wins Senate seat

BY ED LEPOMA

Political newcomer Dirk Dedeaux maintained the momentum of his August ousting of an incumbent, and handily defeated his Republican challenger Tuesday to win the rural house seat, representing citizens of District 93.

Complete, but unofficial returns show Dedeaux with 5,020 or 66 percent and Republican challenger William "Bill" Frisbie with 2,617 votes or 34 percent of the ballots cast.

In the August primary, Dedeaux unseated incumbent State Rep. Harry Frierson Jr., 58 percent to 42 percent to gain the Democratic nomination.

Dedeaux, whose roots are in the Sellers Community, turned 23 between the primary and Tuesday's general election, and will be the youngest person to serve in the legislature when he takes office next January.

District 93 encompasses parts of Pearl River County, Stone County, Northern Central Harrison County and precincts north of I-10 in Hancock County.

It is a largely rural area, and Dedeaux said he successfully reached out to the working middle class and was able to appeal to voters in both parties.

"Mine was a pretty broad message," said Dedeaux. I supported the sales tax cut on groceries, and measures to reduce juvenile crime. I opposed raising legislators' salaries. "I think the people saw I was sincere, and my intentions and my heart are in the right place," said Dedeaux. "I won't let them down."

The unofficial returns show Dedeaux built a broad base of support from his home base of Hancock County, capturing 1,463 votes or 65 percent to 771 or 35 percent cast for Frisbie.

Of 12 precincts in Hancock County, Dedeaux lost only two, and they were in the predomantly Republican stronghold of Diamondhead.

In Diamondhead east, the vote was 746 for Frisbie and 539 for Dedeaux. In Diamondhead West, Frisbie got 185 votes to 145 cast for Dedeaux.

Dedeaux, who works for a wholesaler of appliance parts in Gulfport, celebrated his victory with his family and about 400 supporters — who came in and out throughout the night — at Shaw's Fish House in the Sellers Community.

He told the Echo after taking office, his first priority would be to master parliamentary procedure.

"I intend to be a major player in the legislature," he promised. Dedeaux is single and holds a B.S. degree in political science and a B.A. in modern languages (Russian and German) from Mississippi College.

In 1993, he worked as a Congressional intern in the office of 5th District U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor.

Diamondhead swing precinct in District 3 election

BY RICHARD MEEK

Diamondhead again proved to be the swing precinct in the District 3 Supervisor race.

Republican challenger Lisa Cowand rode a strong wave of support from Diamondhead and her home-based North Bay precincts to defeat incumbent Democrat Howard Lizana. The victory ensures that an entire new Board of Supervisors will take office in January.

"I don't take anything for granted, but I did expect to carry Diamondhead," Cowand said. "I had a good rapport with the citizens there from when I served as supervisor before."

Cowand was elected as a Democrat to serve out an unexpired term in 1987. She served for over two years before losing her seat to Lizana. This time, Cowand ran as a Republican.

In Tuesday's election, Lizana carried three of the district's five rural precincts but lost by large margins in Cowand's home district of North Bay West and Diamondhead. Lizana gained only 461 of 1,295 votes cast in Diamondhead.

He lost his seat by 98 votes, 1,595-497. Lizana had defeated Cowand by a margin of 100 votes four years ago.

"I tried the best I could to gain the confidence of the Diamondhead citizens," Lizana said. "They strictly voted along party line."

Cowand was elected as a Democrat in 1987, but recently changed her party affiliation. Diamondhead traditionally votes Republican.

MDOT field office

The Mississippi Department of Transportation (MDOT) is opening a right of way field office in Gulfport to assist landowners in the relocation process during present and future gaming road construction projects.

According to Jim Mathews, chief of the Right of Way Division, the field office is located at 47 Hardy Court Shopping Center on Pass Road in Gulfport, and will be open to residents and property owners of Harrison, Hancock and Jackson counties. The office can be contacted at 868-1677.

"The right of way office has been established for the benefit and convenience of the public," Mathews said. "Citizens should feel free to come by if they have any questions about their property or need relocation assistance."

Gaming road projects scheduled to begin construction in the Coast area include improvements to Highways 90 and 609, Hwy. 90 (Henderson Point), Hwy. 49 (28th Street to Turkey Creek), the intersection of Highways 49 and 90 and Lorraine/Cowan Road.

MDOT will hold an open house for the field office today at 10 a.m. Transportation Commissioner Ronnie Shows and MDOT personnel will be present. The public is invited to attend.

Depot

Already, the city-built train platform at the depot has been subjected to significant vandalism, said Fitzpatrick.

The city recently bought the former CSX depot and has federal grant funding to restore it. Upon completion, in eight months, the facility will house a genealogical library on the second story, and community events and exhibits on the first story.

In other business during a recent workshop, council agreed to a $51,170 contract with Compton Engineering to complete the final phases of a sewer system evaluation program. The work includes flow monitoring, smoke testing and evaluation of manholes throughout the city.

Public Works Director Ronald J. Vanney said after the initial phases of the study were completed last year, city workers were able to repair faulty lines and manholes, improving the efficiency of the system.

In the process, workers found over 50 manholes that were hidden under several layers of asphalt in city streets, said Vanney.

The city spent almost $40,000 on the first stages of study.

We take this opportunity to thank all the voters of District 5 who came out in the bad weather to vote Tuesday ... and especially the many supporters who worked long hours on our campaign, I would like to thank you with all of my heart. I am looking forward to the challenges that face our county in the next four years.

It was you who elected me and it will be you and your input who will allow me to achieve what Hancock County needs to move us forward into the 21st Century.

Thank You

County library system use shows increase

The Hancock County Library System has experienced a 13 percent increase in circulation for 1995, according to Prima Plaque, library system director.

According to statistics reported to the Mississippi Library Commission, the library system handled more than 152,000 checkout transactions during fiscal year 1995, as compared to 134,960 in 1994.

More than 40,000 Hancock County residents visited a branch library to borrow books and other media. In addition, with the library's new record keeping procedure implemented during 1995, more than 6,000 reference questions were asked that required special informational assistance by staff members.

"We are very pleased with these figures," said Plaque. "They mean we are meeting the informational needs of Hancock County residents of all ages, from children who want information for a school project to senior citizens who want to know how to perform their own plumbing repairs."

Adult library users accounted for more than 91,000 borrowing transactions. More than 39,000 juvenile materials were borrowed. The balance of the items were loaned from the library's non-print collections, which includes videos, equipment, books on tape and large print items.

More than 1,500 new library users were registered during the year, bringing the total of library users to more than 22,000, or 60 percent of the county's population.

The public meeting rooms at all three branches of the library system were used by more than 2,000 adults and 1,800 juveniles for various community functions.

The 1995 Summer Reading Program set new records for the library system, with program attendance reflecting a 60 percent increase over 1994. This means more than 2,300 children attended the programs and read more than 7,000 books in a six-week period.

The library owns approximately 60,000 print and non-print items. The circulation statistics indicate that, on the average, each item circulated more than two and one half times during the year.

Southern Women meet today

The Southern Women's Club will meet today at the center for Women's Health at 9:30 a.m. in Long Beach.

Guest speakers will be Lore Holleman and Donna Sharp. They will demonstrate holiday gift wrapping.

The monthly donation will be canned goods and non-perishable food items to be donated to a needy family for Thanksgiving.

The next meeting, the club's annual Christmas luncheon, will be Dec. 14 at 9:30 a.m. at Chappy's Restaurant in Long Beach.

Waveland Festival of Lights

The 1995 Waveland Festival of Lights will be Sunday, Dec. 10.

Mayor John Mason said, "This is an excellent opportunity for Waveland businesses to show their appreciation to their Waveland customers."

Coleman Avenue will be blocked off to vehicular traffic, creating a Town Square Christmas atmosphere, where families can stroll up and down, and offer season's greetings to their neighbors.

All businesses in Waveland are invited to participate. There will be plenty of room for non-Coleman Avenue businesses to set up booths.

Interested businesses are asked to attend an organizational meeting Wednesday, Nov. 15 at 5:30 p.m. in the Board Room in the City Hall Annex. This will also provide an opportunity for businesses to establish booth locations.

'Barefoot' to open Nov. 10

Gulfport Little Theatre presents the second show of its Fabulous 50th Season, Neil Simon's comedy, "Barefoot in the Park," Nov. 10, 11, 17 and 18 at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, Nov. 12 at 2 p.m.

After a long run on Broadway in the 60's, "Barefoot in the Park" became a Hollywood movie starring Robert Redford and Jane Fonda.

Tickets are $10 for adults, $8 for senior citizens and $7 for students. Reservations may be made by calling the box office at 864-7983.

PRCC Hall of Fame

Three former Pearl River Community College All-Americans were inducted into the college's Sports Hall of Fame during formal homecoming activities Oct. 28. The 1995 inductees include, from left, David Earl Johnson of Poplarville; Antrice McGill Eddie of Houston, Texas; and Steve Regan of Calhoun, La. Johnson played nose-guard and center on PRC's 1969 state championship team, and McGill was the first All-American for the Lady Wildcats basketball team. She played for the Lady Wildcats in 1987-1989. Regan played defensive end on the 1961 state and national championship team and was a two-way starter for the 1962 football Wildcats.

Ms. Senior America

Applications are now being accepted from women who have reached the "age of elegance" (60 years and older) to be part of the Mississippi Ms. Senior America Pageant March 16-17 in Biloxi.

The Mississippi Ms. Senior America Pageant is the only official preliminary in Mississippi for the National Ms. Senior America Pageant.

The pageant emphasizes and gives honor to women who serve as role models. The pageant seeks to draw attention and gives recognition to the achievements of older women. It presents the opportunity for them to display their "inner beauty," talent, elegance and positive outlook on life.

Women from all parts of the state will be presented in four categories: interview, poise and evening gown, philosophy of life and talent.

Mississippi Senior Ms. America will represent the state at the National Ms. Senior America Pageant to be held September 1996 in Biloxi.

Senior America Inc. is the pageant coordinator, is a national not-for-profit social service organization that presents the positive aspects of aging, and acts as an educator and inspiration to people of all ages.

If you are over 60, a resident of Mississippi and have a positive outlook on life that you would like to share, you could be part of this most unique program.

Contact Lucy Bickham, P. O. Box 8784, Gulfport, MS 39506 or call 601-896-5683, Denise at 1-800-237-9493, or National Headquarters at 215-574-9565.

Boomtown Casino

Multiple Sclerosis Benefit

Boomtown Casino will host its second annual Multiple Sclerosis Benefit Sunday, Nov. 12 from 1-6 p.m. on the West Deck of the casino.

LaTouche, Act 3, A. J. Smith and Jo El Sonnier will be performing. Tickets are $10 per person. All proceeds will go directly to the Mississippi Gulf Coast Multiple Sclerosis Society. Tickets are on sale in the Main Cashier Cage at Boomtown.

Upon entering the concert, the ticket holder will receive a coupon for a buy-one-get-one-free buffet (a $6.95 value). Individuals must be 21 to attend.

Multiple Sclerosis is usually diagnosed in people ages 25-35. The actual cause of MS is not known; it is however a viral disruption of the immune system that attacks the nervous system. When muscles do not receive signals from the nervous system, the individual is unable to use that muscle.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Multiple Sclerosis Society is an all-volunteer organization. All money goes to direct patient care such as ramps for people's homes, prescriptions, power bill subsidizing, and sometimes the hospital or food bills of their members who need financial assistance.

BACKACHE.

The little pain that lasts and lasts.

Back pain often starts small. Sometimes it disappears; usually it returns; often it gets worse. If left untreated, back pain can linger for years as a nagging reminder that all is not well.

Your job may be the culprit; you may sit all day hunched over a desk; you may lift heavy objects; you may be constantly bending over, caring for children. These are common causes of misaligned vertebrae of the spine and may be good reasons why you have back pain.

And because the spine is a complex system which is connected to other areas of the body, misaligned vertebrae in the spine can also be the reason for tension, stiffness, fatigue and more specifically back pain and headaches.

Our doctors at HODA CHIROPRACTIC CLINICS are specialists in back care. They can restore spinal vertebrae to their proper position, relieving pain and avoiding further complications.

Make this the last morning your back is left untreated. See Dr. Desmond W. Hoda.

AgriFair '95 first of its kind in Mississippi

While the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce does far more than promote and regulate agriculture, many Mississippians are unaware of the agency's far reaching services.

"We are completely dependent upon our farmers for our daily bread, and for a variety of products we need to live our daily lives," said Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Buck Ross.

"But many Mississippians do not know how those products are made—the process of cultivating a crop, bringing it to market, processing the raw materials and packaging it for the public consumption."

In 28 years of service to the state's farm community, Ross has seen his role as both a steward of the state's farm resources and a promoter of its products. Today, the need to educate the public about agriculture has never been greater, Ross said.

Growing public interest in Mississippi's agricultural endeavors led Ross and the Department to undertake AgriFair '95, the first agricultural trade show of its kind in the state.

The fair will take place at the Mississippi Trademart on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 14-15 from 10 a.m.-6 p.m. each day. Admission is free.

The fair will serve many purposes, said Chris Sparkman, deputy director of the Department.

"First, it's an agricultural fair showcasing Mississippi products and representing the agricultural community—a place where they can show and sell products," Sparkman said. "It will also highlight the Department of Agriculture itself."

Many people are unaware of the magnitude of agriculture's influence on their daily lives, Sparkman said.

"If people get up in the morning and have eggs and sausage, they've come across something we've had something to do with," he said. "When they go to the gas station, we've had something to do with that. When they go to Dairy Queen, we've had something to do with that. This fair will highlight some of those services we perform that people aren't aware of."

The imminent retirement of longtime Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Buck Ross and the recent primary elections for the new commissioner have renewed people's interest in the Agriculture Department, Sparkman said.

"The timing of AgriFair '95 is very good because of that heightened interest," he said.

The Department's responsibilities, activities and accomplishments will be the special feature during the two-day event.

In addition to exhibits of agriculture-related products and services, the fair will feature "A Celebration of Service," a banquet honoring Commissioner Ross and recognizing him for his 28 years of service to the agricultural community and to the state.

The banquet, which is open to the public, will be Wednesday, Nov. 15 at 6:30 p.m. at the Trademart. Tickets are $15.

Exhibit space during the fair is open to anyone interested in a share of Mississippi agri-commerce dollars, including convention and visitors bureaus, horse associations, chambers of commerce, Mississippi manufacturers, state agencies, economic development agencies, commodities associations and banks.

The event will provide an arena for exhibitors to introduce new products, make new contacts with the agricultural community, or sell existing products. In addition, the event will feature entertainment, door prizes and food.

Mississippi's pecans struggle

By Linda Breazeale
MSU Ag Communications

Still reeling from the February 1994 ice storm, Mississippi's pecans struggled through drought conditions this summer and may end up yielding only about 40 percent of the state's crop potential.

Dr. Freddie Rasberry, extension horticulture specialist at Mississippi State University, said alternate bearing years are common in pecan production. Trees may yield 25 percent of their crop one year, 75 percent the next, then back down the next.

Trees in the Delta, where most of Mississippi's crop is located, may produce 10 percent this year. The Delta was hit hardest by the ice storm, which wiped out about 1,000 acres and seriously damaged the remaining trees.

"What crop we did produce this year will be low quality because of the drought," Rasberry said. "Mississippi normally produces about 7 million pounds of pecans; this year we may produce 1.5 million pounds. Next year, we should double or triple that amount if the weather cooperates."

Randolph Smith of Raymond said his 8,000 trees may produce between 200,000 to 225,000 pounds. Before the seven-week drought hit in August, this expectation had been for a 400,000 pound harvest.

"The drought reduced our crop by at least 100,000 pounds," Smith said. "When rains did arrive it was too late to help the nuts much. It's still a great crop compared to last year when we didn't have any pecans."

A severe drought in 1993 and an early frost drastically reduced the 1994 crop that was not damaged by the ice storm.

Smith, who is president of the Mississippi Pecan Growers Association, said when the drought hit, he suspended efforts to control insects. The result was increased damage from aphids and weevils.

Prices are averaging between $1.35 and $1.50 per pound, which is near normal.

Rasberry said the major pecan producing states of Georgia and Alabama are producing about half a crop due to the drought.

Mississippi has between 12,000 and 14,000 acres of pecans.

Aid call boxes

Transportation Commissioner Ronnie Shows recently announced that a contract was awarded for the installation of emergency motorist aid call boxes on Interstates 10 and 110 in Jackson, Harrison and Hancock counties.

According to Shows, a call box will be installed on every mile of Interstates 10 and 110 from the Louisiana state line to the Alabama state line.

The boxes will enable motorists to call for road service, the police or medical assistance by pressing a button. Once a selection has been made, a signal is transmitted to the communication center at the Gulfport Highway Safety Patrol Office where emergency assistance is dispatched.

"Call boxes benefit motorists by allowing them to select the specific kind of emergency service needed," Shows says. "The boxes also increase safety by assisting emergency personnel in quickly locating motorists."

The commissioner says when the project is completed, Mississippi will join Louisiana and Alabama in offering this valuable service.

"This project will help tie Mississippi to our east and west neighbors and give our citizens and visitors a sense of security, especially if traveling alone."

The contract for this project was awarded in September to Jack B. Harper Contractor, of Mandeville, La., with a low bid of $2,084,616. The completion date for the project is March 1997.

The bonds were given to Chancery Court Clerk Mike Nicaise to put in a separate interest-bearing escrow account.

Murtagh also read a letter from Sam Keyes, the Jackson-based lawyer who was hired to pound out an agreement with Jubilee over its unpaid taxes before it left Hancock County.

Jubilee paid $60,000 towards property taxes it owes for 1994, then posted bonds of $191,243 for the remaining 1994 taxes, and another bond for $212,000 for property taxes that will be due in Feb. of 1996.

Keyes said he did not expect another cash payment from Jubilee before the end of the year. "There is very little we can do other than monitor the situation," he said.

Murtagh also told supervisors that he was in the process of sending notices to businesses that they must file an application to operate pinball machines and other games of amusement in the county. He said he will start collecting taxes on the machines beginning Dec. 1.

In other actions, supervisors voted to take $70,000 out of the general fund and add it to the Recreation Department's budget.

District 3 Supervisor Howard Lizana explained that the county is holding $500,000 in a State Agriculture Department Grant to build a multi-purpose livestock arena in the Kiln-DeLisle area.

He said the funds are for the building, and can't be used for buying the land that is needed.

Lizana said the Recreation Department has set aside $130,000 for the land purchase, but needed another $70,000 to buy up the property.

Supervisors said the Recreation Department can return the funds in yearly installments of $10,000 out of its own budget until the $70,000 is returned to the general fund.

Supervisors also approved recommendations of the county's Port and Harbor Commission to award a contract to pave and improve the weight load standards on Calgon Road at Port Bienville.

The Commission's executive director said the $48,000 project would be financed with monies out of the port's budget.

Huey Stockstill Inc., of Picayune was awarded the contract.

Supervisors also followed the county Planning Commission's recommendations to allow the developer to go forward with the final phase of construction in the Deer Park Subdivision.

The developer will offer 64 lots, ranging in size from 1.54 to 4.56 acres, and has posted a surety bond of almost $87,000 to guarantee completion of roads in the subdivision within one year.

Supervisors also declared Monday, Oct. 13 a county holiday in commemoration of Veterans Day.

The next meeting of the board was set for Thursday, Nov. 16.

Board

1595-1497. Previously, Coward, 40, had won a special election and served from 1987-89.

"As a young board, we will seek out expertise," Coward said. "We will get a lot of input when making decisions. That's healthy."

She is still the only woman elected as a supervisor, and she will be the only Republican on the board. Coward was the only Republican elected to any office in Hancock County Tuesday. Several women have previously served as supervisors, but were not elected.

It took four elections, but Seymour finally won the seat currently held by his father, Wilmer. Seymour won the Aug. 8 primary, an Aug. 29 runoff and a special election against Tom Williams on Halloween.

On Tuesday, Seymour, with 1,009 votes, won handily over

Joey Manieri (474) and Doc Toups (228).

"It was a long, hard road, but it was worth it," Seymour said. "I am now ready to go to work for the people in my district and the people of Hancock County."

Ladner won the District 1 election with 1,038 votes. He defeated Tommy Bordages (837) and Pat LaFave (329).

Kellar defeated Bay St. Louis City Clerk Kay Johnson, 6,205-5,533. He is the son of Adolph Kellar, a longtime supervisor of District 2, who decided against seeking reelection.

Kellar easily carried the county precincts to overcome Johnson's heavy support in Diamondhead. However, Johnson's demise may have come in her own backyard of Bay St. Louis.

She carried only three of five city precincts by just over 100 votes in an area where she was expected to run strong.

District 2 Supervisor-elect Rodrick Pullman, 41, garnered 1,280 votes to outdistance Ronald Cuevas (819) and Thomas McArthur (173).

Bill Johnson carried Hancock County, 5,945-5,674, but a weak showing in Harrison County put Cuevas in office. Cuevas garnered 56 percent of the vote in west Harrison County, with 2,582 votes compared to 1,979 for Johnson.

Peterson captured 69 percent of the vote with 8,104 votes in his easy win over challenger Ray Murphy.

Metzler was sent back for another term with 66 percent of the vote, over challenger Cheryl Goetz Cooper.

Affidavit voting may mean the difference in the Superintendent of Education's race. As of Tuesday night, former superintendent Terrell Randolph had a 37-vote lead over Donald Hillman. However, 107 affidavit ballots will be counted tonight at the county courthouse.

County voters went against the state tide in regards to term limits. Voters approved the proposal, 6,392-4,916. The measure carried in 22 of 28 precincts.

Clement R. Rondeau, and Mrs. Waldo C. Otis.

Plaintiffs contend the existing rockpile and pier infringe on their property rights, adversely affect their property values and degrade the environment.

They seek an injunction requiring the county to remove the existing rockpile and parking lot at the foot of Washington Street.

They also want the court to determine the actual boundaries of their property lines, which they claim Mississippi statute already has determined, extends 750 yards into the water.

The American Legion owns the pier, and the county leases it, and has applied to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for a permit to build a breakwater around the pier's boat ramp.

The Corps and the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources held a public hearing on the application Oct. 25.

In the suit, Lair contends, "Any activity...to enlarge the rockpile or conduct any dredging or to make any landward improvements is...a violation of the city's zoning ordinance."

The suit also claims the existing rockpile and its enlargement would impede the ebb and flow of the tide and harm the marine environment.

County to answer beachfront suit

BY ED LEPOMA

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors agreed Monday to hire brothers Lucien and Gerald Gex to defend the county in a lawsuit filed by 11 property owners trying to halt development at the Washington Street pier.

Lucien Gex said the county has 30 days to answer the suit filed Nov. 1 in Chancery Court, and in their plea they would ask court and attorney fees be paid by plaintiffs in the event the court finds "the suit is frivolous, and there is no basis for it." No hearing date has been set.

Eleven people, who own property near the foot of the pier, filed suit last week, claiming the existing rockpile and pier infringe on their property rights.

The suit was filed by Henry Laird against the Board of Supervisors on behalf of: Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Sportono, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy F. Swoop, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Hillary, Dr. Edwin Davidson,

Bay approves franchise

Bay St. Louis voters easily approved the city's renewal of a 25-year lease with Mississippi Power.

By an overwhelming majority, 623-104, voters approved the lease renewal, ensuring the city will receive an extra one percent rebate from the utility company.

College Football Highlights

For Nov. 11

This weekend there are big games in almost every conference, and one of the headliners is Nebraska's visit to Kansas in the Big Eight. The Huskers will be gunning for their 27th straight win over the Jayhawks since 1968, and we think they'll get it with defense as well as offense.

Nebraska not only has the nation's best running game, but its defense is among the best against the run — Kansas's strength.

Last year in Lincoln, the Huskers had an easy time with the Jayhawks, winning 45-17 as Lawrence Phillips ran for two TD's and 153 of Nebraska's 336 yards on the ground, while Brock Berringer, Tommy Frazier's replacement at QB, passed for two more scores. On Saturday Kansas will stay within two TD's, but don't expect an upset.

In '94, Northwestern and Iowa fought for nothing but pride in the Big Ten, but this week the Wildcats most likely will be fighting for the spot in the Florida Citrus Bowl that's reserved for the second-place Big Ten finisher.

In Evanston, Ill., the Iowa Hawkeyes' 21-game winning streak against Northwestern should end. Last year Iowa's redshirt freshman QB, Matt Sherman, shredded the Wildcat defense, passing for 331 yards and three TD's in his first collegiate start as the Hawkeyes romped 49-13.

This year Sherman has been even better, but he'll be up against the new Northwestern, and it's the Wildcats who'll do the shredding.

Another bowl berth looms in College Park, Md., where the Maryland Terrapins host Virginia, hoping to slow the Cavalier's march to a second-place finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Virginia should win its fourth straight from Maryland and to the head of the line for the Gator Bowl. In this matchup last year in Charlottesville, Va., the Cavs not only won easily, 46-21, but they left a lasting impression on Maryland QB Scott Milanovich, sacking him five times, intercepting him three times, making him fumble twice and even blocking one of his punts. This time, though, Milanovich and the Terrapins should stay within nine points.

And what's at stake when Washington faces UCLA in Los Angeles? Plenty: If not the rose Bowl, then the Pacific-10 slot in the Cotton Bowl or the Holiday Bowl — to say nothing of UCLA's pride.

Last year in Seattle, Napoleon Kaufman ran for 227 yards — 175 of them in the second half — as then-12th-ranked Washington beat UCLA for the first time since '89, 37-10.

Thereafter, both teams faded and neither ended up in a bowl game. The Bruins and Huskies have different ideas this time around.

NFL Forecast for Sunday and Monday Nov. 12-13

*Buffalo, 26—Atlanta, 24

(Sunday) The Bills are a running team, and the Falcons defend best against the run. Atlanta loves to pass, and Buffalo shuts down opposing passing games. So this game looks almost too close to call.

Cincinnati, 23—Houston 17

Oilier QB Chris Chandler was in a zone during Houston's 38-28 win over the Bengals in Week Four, completing 23 of 26 passes for 352 yards and four TD's. This time it'll be Cincinnati's turn.

*Dallas, 29—San Francisco, 25

Last year the 49ers got the best of this stirring rivalry, beating the Cowboys 21-14 in the regular season and 38-28 in the NFC Championship game. They're still the two best teams in football.

*Green Bay, 27—Chicago, 21

Brett Favre's 99-yard pass to Robert Brooks put the Packers up 21-0 over the Bears nine weeks ago in Chicago, and G.B. held on to win 27-24. They're now the two best teams in the NFC Central.

Indianapolis, 31—New Orleans, 19

The Colts and Saints haven't met since '89, when N.O. was a 41-6 winner. QB Jim Harbaugh has the Colts fired up, while N.O.'s Jim Everett is tossing a lot of both TD passes and interceptions.

*Jacksonville, 22—Seattle, 13

If the Jaguars' inconsistent offense can score against any team, it's the Seahawks, whose defense barely registers a pulse. Jacksonville will be loose, while Seattle will be trying too hard.

Kansas City, 28—San Diego, 24

In their first matchup, Tamarick Vanover raced 86 yards with a Charger punt in OT to lead the Chiefs over S.D. 29-23. K.C. will run well against a D that gives up lots of yards on the ground.

*Miami, 35—New England, 20

The Dolphins won their first game with the Patriots 20-3, not by way of Dan Marino's arm but rather with a solid running game and good defense. Miami should win its fourth straight over N.E.

Minnesota, 21—Arizona, 16

Last year this was a struggle of powerful defenses — won by the Cardinals, 17-7, in Phoenix — but so far only Arizona's pass D has been noteworthy. The Vikings need every win they can scrape.

Oakland, 32—N.Y. Giants, 15

Beyond the fact that the Raiders are among the NFL leaders in rushing and the Giants have one of the weakest rushing defenses, Oakland is a better team all around. They haven't met since '92.

*Philadelphia, 24—Denver, 21

This game is a tossup, dependent on whether Rodney Peete can move the Eagles and how John Elway fares against a Philadelphia defense that has come into its own. They last met three years ago.

*St. Louis, 30—Carolina, 14

The Rams wrecked the Panthers' home opener in Week Three, forcing seven turnovers and terrorizing three Carolina QB's on the way to a 31-10 rout. In the tight NFC West, St. Louis can't let up.

Tampa Bay, 27—Detroit, 17

In '94 the Buccaneers beat the Lions 24-14 in T.B., then Detroit struck back at home, 14-9. The Bucs look strong enough to win both games against the Lions for the first time in five years.

*Pittsburgh, 23—Cleveland, 20

(Monday) With a mini-streak of four wins in a row against the Browns, including a 29-9 divisional playoff victory last year, the Steelers are — statistically, anyway — better with and without the ball.

(Open date: N.Y. Jets, Washington)

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1995-B3

BETWEEN THE LINES

By Richard Meek

For many football fans in Bay St. Louis and Waveland, the season boils down to one game: Bay High vs. St. Stanislaus. Forget the records, the winner authors a successful season-ending chapter.

However, this year the teams were robbed of the opportunity to earn a year's worth of bragging rights. When small acts of vandalism occurred at each school, St. Stanislaus principal Dr. Michael Ryan elected to forfeit the game.

Dr. Ryan targeted the vandalism as the culprit, but in reality, it was his overreaction to a relatively minor series of events that snuffed out not only the varsity game, but the junior varsity game as well.

Dr. Ryan claimed he did not forfeit the game for fear of retaliation at the school. He admitted he had complete confidence in law enforcement agencies to control the crowd. One can only wish that would have been his reason. It would have been more plausible.

Rather, Dr. Ryan said he cancelled the contest to send a message to the students and community that a football game is a privilege, and if community members cannot act appropriately, then that privilege will be revoked. In other words, Dr. Ryan has assumed the role of the Hancock County moral police.

Granted, St. Stanislaus is a religious institution, but that does not grant Dr. Ryan an inherent right to be the county's moral watchdog.

His decision to cancel the game was misguided and showed a lack of courage. No doubt, the offending students should be punished to the fullest extent of each school's disciplinary code. But an entire community should not have been forced to sit in the corner for the actions of a few.

Dr. Ryan's decision left a scar in this community that, unfortunately, will take years to heal. He has drawn a line in the sand, and one is left to wonder who will cross first.

The rivalry between Stanislaus and Bay High is friendly, albeit spirited. It extends far beyond the playing fields, from playgrounds to boardrooms, from neighbor to neighbor, and, in many cases, from one family member to another.

Pre-game pranks in any rivalry are as much a part of the tradition as the game itself. If administrators nationwide were to follow Dr. Ryan's lead, then we would never see another Ole-Miss LSU game, or a Michigan-Ohio State matchup.

If Dr. Ryan had allowed the game to go on as scheduled, it would have probably been played without incident. And following the game, the teams would have walked off together, and fans would have broken bread at the same tables.

But because of Dr. Ryan's shortsightedness, the community is now divided by a wedge that did not exist a week ago.

Congratulations to Hancock High School for being extended an invitation to the Georgia

Basketball

The Lakeshore Booster Club is holding basketball registrations for ages 7-15 at the Gulfview School Gym in Lakeshore. The dates are Nov. 8, 9, 14, 15, 16 and 17 from 5-7 p.m. Cost is $15 per child.

A copy of birth certificate and a photo are required to register. Coaches are also needed.

For more information, call 466-2603 or 467-0730.

The wrong decision

Pacific Bowl on Saturday in Monticello, Miss. The Hawks will play nearby Collins at 2:30 p.m.

The trick is going to be finding Monticello, which is located roughly about 19 miles east of Brookhaven. Fans may either travel up Highway 49 through Hattiesburg, and head west on Highway 84 when reaching Collins, or travel to Hammond, La., and follow Interstate 55 to Brookhaven.

Hope to see you there.

This week is an opportunity to preview all of the basketball teams in the area. St. Stanislaus is hosting the Hancock County Tournament through Friday. Also participating besides the host Rock-a-chaws, are Our Lady Academy, Pass Christian, Bay High and Hancock.

Both the boys' and girls' teams are competing.

The Top 10

1. Nebraska...Noreal tests left
2. Florida...Headed to Fiesta?
3. Ohio State...May be the country's toughest schedule
4. Tennessee...Manning continues to impress
5. Florida State...Ready for matchup with Gators
6. Kansas State...Who are these guys anyway?
7. Notre Dame...Late season surge for Irish
8. Northwestern...Still not convinced Wildcats belong any higher
9. Colorado...Tough conference
10. Texas...Coasting through SWC

Lawyer signs with Bulldogs

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Mississippi State Bulldogs have signed St. Stanislaus' Terry Lawyer to a basketball National Letter of Intent in the early signing period.

Lawyer, a 6-8 senior, has lettered for the Rocks for three years as their go-to big man in the middle. In his sophomore year, Lawyer averaged 12.9 ppg and 7 rpg for the Rocks. He improved that to 22.9 ppg, 13.8 rpg, and 2.7 bpg for the Rocks in his junior season last year.

During his time with the Rocks, SSC has appeared in the Round of 16 in the Mississippi State playoffs for the past two years. Last year the Rocks were the Division 8 Class 4A champions and Lawyer was named Best Offensive Player in the district.

He has accrued numerous all-tournament honors and was the only junior named to the All-Gulf Coast team last year. Lawyer has also been tabbed by several college basketball preview magazines as one of the top 100 players in the country to watch.

Hancock High accepts bowl bid

BY RICHARD MEEK

Just when Hancock High School had stowed away its football gear, along comes the Georgia Pacific Bowl.

The Hawks accepted an invitation to play in the post-season event last week. Hancock is scheduled to play Collins High School Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at Lawrence County High School in Monticello, Miss. (located 16 miles east of Brookhaven).

"We consider this a gift," said Hancock coach Rocky Gaudin, who guided the Hawks to a 6-4 record.

Hancock originally had an 11-games schedule but Pass Christian canceled the contract for what would have been both teams' season finale. A settlement of the broken contract is still being negotiated between the schools.

"This is a reward so we have a relaxed atmosphere," Gaudin added. "We are having short practices."

"We are very proud of the season we had. We overcame a lot of problems and injuries."

The Hawks' four losses came against teams that had a combined 35-6 record. All four of those teams qualified for the state playoffs.

Collins finished with a 7-3 record. The teams both lost to East Marion, their only common opponent. East Marion dropped Collins, 31-6, and defeated Hancock, 34-14.

Gaudin said Collins is "big, with good speed, and a lot of good athletes."

"They're bigger than we are."

"This should be a good game," he added. "(Collins) runs right at you. We will show a lot of misdirection. We've also been putting it in the air more."

Gaudin said the extra game means double duty for defensive back Kendrell Lewis, since Lewis is also a member of the Hawk basketball team.

Gaudin said Lewis has been coming to football practice once basketball practice is completed. Lewis is competing with the Hancock basketball team in the Hancock County Tournament at St. Stanislaus, which runs through Friday, and will also play in the Georgia Pacific Bowl.

"That's what high school athletics are all about," Gaudin said.

He added that the bowl game is a good chance for the seniors to play one more game and for the "younger kids to get a little taste of post-season play. Hopefully, next year we will be in the playoffs."

For this year, the Georgia Pacific Bowl will fit just fine.

'Lung Card' available

Play a year's worth of golf for the price of a single round with the 1996 "Lung Card" from the American Lung Association of Mississippi.

For $25, golfers can enjoy free or discounted greens fees at over 600 golf courses in Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Georgia.

The 1996 Lung Card, or Golf Privilege Card (actually at 60-page booklet), is valid from Jan. 1, 1996 through Dec. 31, 1996.

"The Lung Card makes the perfect holiday gift for friends, relatives and business associates who golf," said Robert J. Wills, president of the American Lung Association of Mississippi.

Funds raised by the Lung Card enable the American Lung Association of Mississippi to continue the fight against lung disease, Mississippi's No. 3 killer.

"We were very pleased with the response we received from our 1995 card, and we are proud to announce that more Mississippi courses will be participating in the 1996 card," Wills said.

"Phone orders are welcome, so put your gift list together and call us at 800-737-5453. For your convenience, we accept VISA and MasterCard."

Gaits' horse honored

"Johnny Erk," a horse at Gaits to Success Therapeutic Center of Pass Christian, has been awarded the Regional Therapy Horse of the Year Award by the North American Riding for the Handicapped Association (NARHA).

Each year NARHA recognizes outstanding horses who make a lasting impact at therapeutic riding centers. Johnny Erk was chosen because he exhibits character and sensitivity above what is normally expected of a therapy horse.

He was elected from among more than 4,000 therapy horses at NARHA member riding centers. The Regional Therapy Horse of the Year Award was presented at the NARHA Annual Conference Award's Banquet Nov. 4 in Dallas.

NARHA is non-profit organization that promotes and supports equine-facilitated activities for individuals with disabilities. Currently, NARHA has more than 470 member riding centers across the U.S. and Canada.

'Pee Wee' homecoming

Pass Christian Elementary School PTO held its first annual "Pee Wee Homecoming" Saturday, Oct. 21. Proceeds from this fund raiser will go toward the building of a pavilion on the playground at Pass Elementary. There were 46 young ladies who participated. The two top sellers from each grade, first through sixth, were chosen for the court. Rebecca Scarborough, the top seller, was crowned queen. Front row from left are Brooke Jones, Robin Isabelle, Amanda Meyer, Angel Norris, Sara Stevens, Rachel Jenkins, Heather Henderson; back row, Whitney Saucier, Destiny Porter, Casie Alexander, Rebecca Scarborough, Ashley Ladner and Tahaira Cuevas.

Co-Lin beats PRCC at homecoming game

Copiah-Lincoln used two fourth quarter touchdowns to upend the Pearl River Community College Wildcats 19-14 during homecoming activities Oct. 28.

The loss dropped the Wildcats to 6-3 overall and 4-2 in the South Division, while the Wolves improved to 7-2 and 4-2.

Pearl River will end its season Thursday against the Northeast Tigers in Booneville. The game is set for 6:30 p.m. and will be carried live over WLUN-FM 95.3.

Copiah-Lincoln took the lead on a one-yard run by quarterback Walter Butler with 5:42 remaining in the first quarter. Brent Logan added the point after to give the Wolves the 7-0 advantage.

The Wildcats fumbled at its own 35 to set up Co-Lin's first score.

Pearl River tied the contest in the second period on a 11-yard run by Kenshun Smith. Carrillo kicked the PAT.

In the first half, the Wildcats had a 12-play drive end on downs deep into Wolves territory; and a successful 37-yard field goal called back because of a penalty.

The Wildcats started the third period by fumbling on its first drive. On the next possession, and after a 13-play drive, the Wildcats missed a 43-yard field goal.

Butler passed to Dennis Baldwin for a 36-yard touchdown and Dossey Robbins ran 5 yards to post two Wolves touchdowns. Logan missed the point after, and a second two-point try failed for the Wolves.

The Wildcats were stopped on downs at the 3:58 mark in the game, but with 25 seconds left Jerel Posey passed three yards to Jamie Wilson for the Wildcats' last touchdown.

Posey finished the night with 108 yards, while Kenshun Smith rushed 16 times for 74 yards and one touchdown.

SSC wins fifth district title

By JOSEPH W. GEX II
The St. Stanislaus cross country team captured its fifth straight District 8 Class 4A championship on November 4 in Ocean Springs. In addition to the district championship, SSC coach Eddie Burgo was named the district's Coach of the Year.

Scott Black, Mike Mancuso, and Scott Esher finished as the top three runners in the district and earned All-District honors. Kippy Chamberlain finished sixth overall and garnered All-District honors. Ryan Lawrence, Dawson McCall, and John Rich round out the top seven runners for the Rocks.

SSC finished with 28 points while Quitman finished second with 85 points. Hancock, St. Martin, d'Iberville, George County, and East Central round out the finishers in the district.

Our Lady Academy finished second in their district run-off to St. Andrew's of Jackson. Missy McPhail, defending Class 2A state champion in cross country, finished second overall. Leslie Esher finished fifth overall for the Crescents.

Both teams will compete for the state championship in their respective classes this Saturday at the state championship meet in Clinton.

SSC placed second in the state last year while OLA is the defending state 2A champion.

Mississippi Tennis Assn. Tournament plays through cold and rain at D'head

By Liz Wagner Maio
Raoul Malaver, top seed and Diamondhead teaching pro, won the Men's Singles Open 6-2, 6-4 over Jose Rodriguez, second seed and also a Diamondhead teaching pro, in the Mississippi Tennis Association tournament at Diamondhead Tennis World last weekend.

Michael Milliken, the tournament director, said he was glad that 132 tennis players from five states and six foreign countries completed 153 of the 168 scheduled matches before the rain delay came about 1:30 p.m. on Sunday afternoon.

Lisa Wisniewski, tournament referee, said she thought that they had done "very well to complete 153 matches considering the cold and rainy weather."

Fans snuggled under blankets on the Diamondhead veranda to watch the matches, which were divided into divisions banked on rankings.

Chone Tyndall won the 3.0 Women's Singles title 6-1, 6-4 over Debra Gregory. Chone also made it to the final of the 3.5 Women's Singles which as of this writing was in the rain delay.

Other local winners are Jon Bryant, the Men's Singles 4.0; Pat Shaw and Jane Williams, Women's Doubles 3.5.

Local players will be allowed to finish incomplete matches during the week. The tournament was sanctioned by the Mississippi Tennis Association, the Southern Tennis Association and the United States Tennis Association. All scores will be turned in to those organizations for the players' record and ranking.

Other local players participating, and their rankings, were Robin Stevenson, Maria Davis and Virginia Boyle, 3.5 Women's Singles; Steve Allison, Men's Open Consolation winner; Bob Veenhuis, Gonzalo Rodriguez and Jimmy La Course, Men's Singles 3.5; Susan Gray and Rhonda Pierce, Tanya Bankston and Linda Jones, Women's Doubles 4.0; Christine Langevin and Robin Stevenson, 3.5 Women's Doubles; Hap Davis and Mike Joyce, George Friot and Don Friot, Open Men's Doubles; John McConnon and Bruce Pennington, Jeff Vichello and Cliff Stoddard, and Rowe Crowder and Joe Gregory, Men's Doubles 4.0 Consolation winners;

Jon Bryant and Ned Darvow, Joe Casono and Dan Mitterer, Charlie Edson and Walter O'Donnell, Mike McIlhaney and Fred Singer, Men's Doubles 3.5; Vicky McColister and Connie Skrmetter, Betty Byars and Elizabeth Watts, Women's Doubles 4.5; Gary Beach and Pat Davis, Ben Rodriguez and Trish Weatherly, Mixed Doubles 3.5; Andy and Judy Michoud, Mixed Doubles 4.0; and Myron Labat and Elizabeth Watts, Mixed Doubles 4.5.

SSC soccer offers free admittance to local youth

Special to the Echo
The St. Stanislaus soccer team is continuing its program of opening some of its games to the players registered with the Bay Area Youth Soccer organization. The children and their parents are admitted free of charge to designated games throughout the season.

The first such game is their opening match scheduled for Wednesday, November 15. At 5:30 p.m. the SSC Junior High squad will play the SSC Junior Varsity followed by a varsity game matching the Rocks and Mercy Cross at 7pm.

The program is open to all youth players, boys and girls. The only stipulation is that they wear their league jersey for identification purposes.

"Coach Tim Burns and I started this program a couple of years ago as interest in soccer was growing locally," stated Junior High coach Andy Kivlan.

"It gives the younger players a chance to see their sport played at a different level. It's definitely a great learning experience."

If anyone has any questions regarding the program they should feel free to contact either Coach Tim Burns or Coach Andy Kivlan at St. Stanislaus. Future open admittance games will be announced at a later date.

Red Raiders drop opener 62-57

By JOSEPH W. GEX II
The Coast Episcopal Red Raiders dropped their opener to Bensford Academy by the score of 62-57.

Buddy Dauterive scored 36 points in a losing effort while Beau Saccoccia added 12 points.

The Red Raiders fell behind 29-22 at the intermission but stormed back with a 26 point third period effort. Coast Episcopal ended the third period with the score tied at 38-38.

However, in the final period the Red Raiders were edged 12-9 for the loss. Coast Episcopal fell to 0-1 with the loss.

In girls action, Bensford Academy wiped away Coast Episcopal 42-17. Lizzie Tower led the Lady Raiders with eight points.
